

PHY 101 : Introduction to Physics I (+lab)

The topics included in this course are classical mechanics, statics, simple machines, energy and the properties of matter. The experimental, historical and philosophical development of a conceptual understanding of the physical world is the major goal in the course. The material is developed through student involvement in classroom activities, discussions and laboratory experiences. A $50 lab fee is charged.

Credits 4

Proficiency

QL

Liberal Education Core

Science

Prerequisites

- MAT 206 or successful completion (B- or better) of two years of high school algebra.

Semester Offered

Offered fall