

REL 237 : Themes in Comparative Religion

This course explores two or more religious traditions in significant depth. The goal is to delve more deeply into the ideas and practices of religions than is possible in REL 105. Special attention will be given to primary and secondary sources and developing frameworks for conceptualizing differences and similarities within and among these traditions.

Credits 4

Liberal Education Core

Humanities

Semester Offered

Offered spring of even-numbered years