

WRT 330 : Creative Nonfiction

This is an intermediate course in creative nonfiction and the personal essay. Over the course of the semester, students explore some of the many ways to create, examine, explain, define and change themselves through the process of writing. Students read a wide variety of writers who are experts in the practice of creative nonfiction and the personal essay. They will also write assignments to help them gain a deeper self-knowledge.

Credits 4

Prerequisite Courses

WRT 201: Introduction to Creative Writing

Semester Offered

Offered spring of even-numbered years