

Women's and Gender Studies Minor

Degree Type

Minor

Women's and gender studies is an interdisciplinary field that examines the concept of gender and how it intersects with class, race and sexuality. Taking classes from across the curriculum, students will become familiar with key issues and debates in the scholarship, as well as histories of feminism and feminist thought.

Requirements:

The minor in women's and gender studies consists of 16 credits:

Item #	Title	Credits
WGS 111	Introduction to Gender Studies	4.0
	Women's and Gender Studies Minor Electives	8