

ESS 204 : Motor Development

This course is designed to introduce students to the changes in motor behavior and skill performance across the lifespan. The lifespan approach is used because of the increased recognition of the importance of physical activity for all ages. In order to understand this approach, factors related to physical growth and maturation are explored.

Credits 4

Semester Offered

Offered spring of even-numbered years